Notable cases

- Toronto High Court, Canada
- Philip gave evidence in the High Court in Canada when the Judge, during a Voir Dire hearing, accepted his right to give expert fingerprint evidence in a Terrorist trial to extradite Suspects from Canada to the UK. Extradition was granted.

- Liverpool Crown Court .1988 Regina v Ian Simms
- This was the first case in Liverpool, when a person was convicted without the body of the deceased being found. Overwhelming forensic evidence was presented to the Jury including the use of DNA evidence for the first time. Philip proved a fingerprint, in blood from the deceased, found at the Public House managed by the accused, could only have been left by him, to the exclusion of all others. Simms was found guilty and sentenced to life imprisonment

- Court of Magistrates, Valletta , Malta6.4.1
- Philip was selected from Independent Fingerprint Experts in UK to review Police fingerprint evidence in a case of Robbery on a security vehicle in Santa Venera Malta in 2000, the case only coming to trial in recent years. Philip completed an exhaustive review of all the evidence and presented his finding, on oath, to the Court of Magistrates in Valletta. Philip was complimented on his work by Magistrate Dr. A.M.Trigona.

- Nottingham Crown Court. Regina v Kieron Podd. Instructed by the defence
- Kieron Podd was accused of the murder of Richard Jones, when the use of a knife was instrumental in his death. Evidence was adduced by the Police Crown Fingerprint Expert, who identified certain of the fingerprints of Kieron Podd and Richard Jones on certain positions of the knife. Philip, acting on instructions from Michael Turner QC, reviewed the Crown evidence in the case. He disagreed with the Crown Fingerprint Expert, stating that the position of the fingerprints attributed to Mr Podd indicated that they were more likely left when defending himself and gave evidence to that effect in the trial. This supported the evidence of the accused. Kieron Podd, who facing life imprisonment, was acquitted by the Jury.

- Regina v Mark Hannah. Phone Hacking trial at the Old Bailey. May 2014
- Acting on instructions, from the legal team representing Mr Hannah, Philip reviewed the fingerprint evidence, disclosed on black polythene bags, adduced by the Metropolitan Police and presented at his trial. After reviewing the position of the fingerprints on the bags a consensus of agreement was reached on the evidence which supported Mr. Hannah's explanation on how they had been handled. Mr Hannah was subsequently acquitted by the Jury.
